HISTORICAL NOTICE.

ON the 23rd December, 1878, a Royal Commission was appointed to inquire into and report upon the operations of the University of New Zealand and its relations to the Secondary Schools of the Colony, and upon the best means of bringing secondary and higher education within the reach of the youth of both sexes. The Commission in its report, under date 9th July, 1879, among other things recommended that the inequality in the educational institutions of the two islands should be removed by establishing, at the most important centres of population in the North Island, Colleges capable of supplying an education of the same standard as that provided by the University of Otago and Canterbury College, and proposed that the Government should invite the Legislature to make immediate provision for the establishment of two Colleges, one at Auckland and the other at Wellington, of such a character as has been indicated. The Commissioners further stated that "They were of opinion that it will be necessary for the Government, either to select out of lands at its disposal suitable sites for College buildings at Auckland and Wellington, or to acquire such sites, and that two grants of £12,500 each should be made for the building of the two Colleges and for fittings and apparatus," and went on to say, "Although these sums are not equal to those expended for like purposes in Dunedin and Christchurch, we think they will be found sufficient for present requirements."

For the annual maintenance of these two Colleges the Commissioners suggested that the Government should utilise the reserves set apart for the promotion of higher education in the Provincial Districts of Auckland and Wellington, and as the present endowments may be presumed to be inadequate, the two Colleges should be respectively endowed with Crown lands sufficient to provide an immediate income to each amounting to £4,000 per annum; and if that is not practicable, the deficit in each case, until such income is realised, be made good by a pecuniary grant.

A College was established in Auckland by "The Auckland University College Act, 1882."

Nothing was done for Wellington until the year 1894, when an Act was passed entitled "The Middle District of New Zealand University College Act, 1894," which said, "There shall be established in the city of Wellington a College to be connected with the University of New Zealand," and provision was made for a governing body, to be called the Council, but no provision was made for any pecuniary grant or endowment, and though certain members of the Council were appointed, nothing could be done for want of funds.

In the year 1897 the Right Hon. R. J. Seddon, P.C., Premier of the Colony, introduced into Parliament the Victoria College Act; an Act, as stated in the preamble, "to promote Higher Education by the establishment of a College at Wellington in commemoration of the sixtieth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria," the College being intended to embrace in its work the Provincial Districts of Wellington, Taranaki, Hawke's Bay, Nelson, Marlborough and Westland. The Act was passed on the 22nd December, 1897, the Council was formed, and the work of organisation was begun. The Act provides for the payment out of the Consolidated Fund of a grant of £4,000 a year, and out of this sum the Council was required to give six Scholarships each year called "Queen's Scholarships," to persons of either sex under the age of 14 years upon the results of an examination under such conditions as the Council may prescribe. In 1903 an amending Act was passed providing for six Junior and four Senior Queen's Scholarships. In 1906 the College was relieved of the payment of these Scholarships. By the Education Act Amendment Act 1907, the Queen's Scholarships were abolished. Since 1905 the College has received from Parliament an annual grant of £2,000 for specialisation in Law and Science. The Act of 1897 further sets apart a parcel of land 4,000 acres in extent in the Nukumarū Survey District (Wellington Provincial District) as an endowment for the College.

The Council decided to begin by the appointment of four Professors for the Chairs of English Language and Literature, Classics, Mathematics and Mathematical Physics, and Chemistry, and the following were appointed:—Classics, J. R. Brown, M.A., St. Andrews and Oxford; English Language and Literature, H. Mackenzie, M.A. St. Andrews; Chemistry and Physics, T. H. Easterfield, M.A. Cambridge, Ph.D. Wurzburg; Mathematics, R. C. Maclaurin, M.A., LL.D. Cambridge. These Professors arrived in the Colony at the end of March, 1899, and as soon as possible classes were organised and lectures begun. Lectureships in French, German, Mental Science, Economics, Constitutional History and Jurisprudence, Law, Geology and Education were established. As the funds of the College permitted, Chairs in Modern Languages, Biology, Law, Mental Science and Physics were founded.

The College was by the Senate of the New Zealand University admitted as an institution affiliated to the University of New Zealand on the 23rd February, 1899.

In 1900 an Act was passed whereby the College Council was empowered to acquire a site for the College buildings, being part of a town reserve situated on Salamanca Road, six acres in extent, and the Government provided £31,000 towards the cost of buildings. A portion of the buildings has been erected, the foundation stone having been laid by His Excellency Lord Plunket, K.C.V.O., on the 27th August, 1904. They were opened by His Excellency Lord Plunket on the 30th March, 1906.

In March, 1910, a further portion of the buildings was completed, forming a wing at the rear of the Arts Building. This wing contains two large class-rooms, and in the basement a men's robing-room, a women's common-room, and a large, well-lighted tea-room, open to students every day throughout the session.

3. To pass in any subject a student (unless exempted—see below) must attend the Lectures in that subject, must do the regular work of the class to the satisfaction of the professor (or lecturer), and must pass such examinations as are prescribed in that subject. A student shall not be considered to have fulfilled the attendance requirement in a subject if he has been absent from more than one-tenth of the lectures in the subject.

* For the purposes of the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, Jurisprudence and Constitutional History shall be deemed to be two subjects, but no student can keep First Year Terms in those two alone.

† Terms may be kept in Law subjects only by scholars as provided in paragraph 5 (b).

4. The following shall be the general regulations for keeping terms: —

(a) To keep First Year Terms, a student must pass in two subjects.

(b) To keep Second Year Terms, the student must pass in three subjects. (The standard of pass is higher for Second and Third Year Terms than for First Year Terms.)

(c) Students keeping Third Year Terms must pass in three subjects unless they have passed in four subjects either in the College Examination at the end of their second year or in the first section of the University Examination. No student shall keep Third Year Terms in any subject in which he has kept Second Year Terms or passed in the first section of the University Examination, except in those subjects in which two distinct courses are recognised. A subject repeated in accordance with the New Zealand University Statute B.A. or B.Sc. Degree counts as a fresh subject.

5. Holders of Junior University and Senior National Scholarships may take a section of the University Examination for B.A., B.Sc., or LL.B., after keeping First Year Terms. To such scholars as intend to avail themselves of this privilege, the following special regulations shall apply:—

(a) To keep First Year Terms such a scholar must pass in three subjects (equivalent to the above requirement for Second Year Terms).

(b) To keep Second Year Terms for B.A. or B.Sc., such a scholar must pass in three subjects other than those in which he has kept First Year Terms, and one of them must be a repeated subject. To keep Second Year Terms for LL.B., such a scholar must pass in three subjects other than those

(c) To keep Third Year Terms for B.A. or B.Sc., such a scholar must produce a certificate of substantial progress in the subject of his special study.

6. Graduates in Arts or Science proceeding to qualify for a degree in Science or Arts, must keep terms in such further subjects as they require for that degree.

7. Students must notify to the Registrar, on or before the fifteenth day of August, the subjects in which they wish to keep terms. Students repeating a subject must notify the same.

8. (a) Exemption from lectures is provided for under certain conditions [Univ. Cal., p. 65, par. III.].

(b) To keep terms, exempted students must pass the Annual College Examination in the requisite number of subjects, and all the above regulations shall apply to them except that of paragraph 3.

(c) The fee for the Annual Examination of any student exempted from attendance at lectures shall be three guineas, if he is examined at any other place than Wellington; or half a guinea for each subject if examined in Wellington.

N.B.—In no case shall such fee be refunded. But if a candidate be prevented by sickness, or other sufficient cause, from taking the examination, the fee shall be credited to him for a future examination: provided that such credit shall not extend for more than two years. If, after payment of the fee, the candidate be removed to another College district, the fee shall be transferred to his credit at that College.

Students who begin to attend Lectures at a period subsequent to the date above mentioned, must pay the full fees when they begin to attend.

ADVICE TO STUDENTS.

(a) Students should, as far as possible, map out complete courses of study. It is the experience of the Professorial Board that this cannot in general be wisely done by students for themselves; and the Board is desirous of giving the fullest possible guidance in this respect. All students ought to consult with members of the Board before deciding upon their courses.

Students proposing to read for Honours should in all cases consult the professor of their Honours subject.

(b) One year's study is not to be regarded as sufficient for a degree course in an Arts or Science subject, unless the student has a good previous knowledge of the subject.

(c) Such subjects as a student has previously studied (at school or elsewhere) and desires to pursue further, should as a rule be taken at the beginning of the course.

(d) Care must be taken in the arrangement of the course in order to avoid clashing in the hours of lectures.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY.

In 1911 the number of volumes in the Library reached 9200. Of these, more than 1300 were added during the year, largely owing to benefactions by the late H. W. Eve, Esq., J. W. Joynt, Esq., the late Sir Jas. Hector, Mr. Justice Cooper, and Percy Buller, Esq.

Some fifty different periodicals, representative of all the faculties, are regularly taken.

LIBRARY REGULATIONS.

1. The ordinary management of the Library is entrusted to the Librarian and his assistants.

2. Members of the College Council and the Teaching Staff of the College shall enjoy the full privileges of the Library, but the full titles of any volumes borrowed by them must be entered in a ledger kept for the purpose and duly signed.

4. Readers shall not be allowed to take books from the Library to any other part of the College buildings.

5. Any student who desires to borrow books from the Library must deposit the sum of one guinea with the Librarian; but no student can be in possession of more than one volume at a time. The guinea shall be returned to the "depositors" when they cease to avail themselves of the privilege of borrowing books, provided they have returned all books undamaged.

6. Students working for Honours, may, upon the written request of a Professor, have more than one volume in their possession, but the Professor making such request shall be held responsible for the return of any volume or volumes thus borrowed.

7. No books shall be given out of the Library except to the borrowers in person, or to some one having written authority from them; and books belonging to the Library must not be privately lent by one reader to another.

8. Encyclopaedias, dictionaries, transactions of learned societies, law reports, prose translations of the Classics, books containing valuable engravings, works with loose plates, maps, books and periodicals unbound, text-books prescribed for the current year, and books marked "Reference" may not be borrowed from the Library.

9. In the event of any books being lost or damaged, while in the possession of persons entitled to the use of the Library, such persons shall either replace the same or pay such a fine as may be imposed by the Professorial Board.

10. Readers are particularly cautioned against injuring books belonging to the Library by writing on the margin, marking or turning down the leaves, or otherwise disfiguring them. The Librarian is instructed to report any damage or disfigurement of books to the Professorial Board.

11. Books removed from the shelves by readers must be left on the tables in the reading-rooms.

12. The Librarian shall enter the full titles (or careful descriptions) of all books borrowed, the date of borrowing, the names and addresses of borrowers in a ledger provided for the purpose.

13. When a volume is returned the date of return must be entered in the column assigned for the purpose in the ledger.

14. A request book shall be provided in which the names of students wishing to obtain books in circulation, together with the titles of the books and the date of request are to be entered.

15. Students may not retain borrowed volumes for more than seven days, but they may re-borrow them for a further period of seven days unless they are entered in the request book as "Wanted."

16. Permission may be given by the Professorial Board (with the consent of the Chairman of the Council) to graduates of the University of New Zealand, to members of other Universities, and to persons engaged in research work, to use the Library under such conditions as may be deemed expedient.

17. During Term the Library shall be open to readers from 10 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. on all week days, except Saturday, when it shall be open from 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.

18. The hours at which books will be lent out or exchanged will be notified in the Library.

19. Any person guilty of a breach of the above Regulations shall be denied the use of the Library.

20. Regulations will be issued from time to time for the use of the Library during the recess.

PRACTICAL CHEMISTRY.

The Victoria College laboratories afford excellent opportunities for the study of experimental chemistry. To each student a separate bench is allotted, furnished with gas, water, and reagents. A charge of ten shillings is made for materials, but unusual breakages must be made good. Special encouragement is given to those who, having obtained a sound training in practical chemistry, propose to carry out original investigations in organic, physical, or technological chemistry.

Students who wish to take up chemistry as a profession are advised to work in the laboratory not less than eighteen hours weekly, and to attend the lectures in physics, mathematics, and German.

All students are required to keep a systematic record of their laboratory work.

1.—PRELIMINARY COURSE.

This course meets the requirements of students preparing for the pass Degrees of the University. The Class meets three times weekly for purposes of demonstration, but the laboratory will be open at other specified times to suit the convenience of students. A minimum attendance of five hours weekly is required from Degree candidates.

2. ADVANCED COURSE.

This is intended for those who wish to obtain a useful knowledge of practical chemistry, such as is required by Honours students, professional chemists, or teachers of the subject. Demonstrations will be arranged at hours to suit the students, and special attention will be paid to quantitative analysis, determination of physico-chemical constants, and the preparation and systematic examination of organic and inorganic compounds. The second year's course will consist of lectures on the general questions of Biology, such as evolution, distribution, heredity, etc., and on Physiology and the anatomy of the Frog. Although the Frog will be the subject of most of the practical work, the lectures will be so framed as to aim at establishing a working knowledge of the elementary physiology of the higher animals; and this course can, if necessary, be taken by students who wish to gain such a knowledge, although they may not have taken the first year's course. Students wishing to take the subject at the degree examinations must take both courses, and should spend two years in doing so.
